VIOLINIST CRAVED EXCITEMENT, SHE SAYS; 2 MEN HELD

Orvelia Wilson, the 16-year-old Lamanda Park choir musician and artist who disappeared from her home Thursday night under mysterious circumstances, was discovered by the police of San Diego in a hotel there last night. Two young men have been arrested in connection with the case. She had registered as "Mrs. Freedman."

Lieut. Hayes of the San Diego police, who questioned the girl, declared she told him she had run away from home because she was tired of the humdrum life and craved excitement.

The disappearance of Miss Wilson caused considerable excitement in Lamanda Park and Pasadena, where she is well known not only for her musical ability but also as an artist. She is the daughter of O. H. Wilson. According to the father's report to the police juvenile bureau, his daughter disappeared from a Pasadena church, where she was to have played a violin solo. Mr. Wilson said he accompanied his daughter to the church and left her in the vestry. That was the last he saw of her and he feared she had been kidnapped.

According to the Pasadena police, Mr. Wilson was to go to San Diego today to bring his daughter home.

Paid $50,000 to Ring in Seattle, Says Collector

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
SEATTLE, Aug. 18.—U. S. Collector of Customs Millard T. Hartson announced today that a total of over $50,000 had been paid to a smuggling ring by fifty-four Chinese who were arrested Wednesday in a raid on the Shipping Board steamer President Jackson here.

Hartson said that he would make an investigation in addition to those announced by Luther T. Weedon, Commissioner of Immigration here, and H. F. Alexander, president of the Pacific Steamship Company, operators of the President Jackson.

The ship's officers at an inquiry session held aboard the President Jackson today by Immigration Inspectors B. E. Gowen and T. L. Wykoff denied knowledge of any plot to smuggle the fifty-four Chinese into this country. The witnesses suggested that the head Chinese in the crew might know something, but added that they had been unable to learn anything from him.

Hartson's information came in a letter which he said came from a person familiar with all details of the alleged plot. The letter asserted that the Chinese had paid from $800 to $1000 apiece, that from $5000 to $10,000 was given to some one aboard the President Jackson and that the remainder, about $50,000, went as profit to a smuggling ring, declared to have agents in Hongkong.

Arrangements for the smuggling, according to the letter, were made in Seattle, the Chinese being "booked" in Hongkong. The Chinese were provided with transportation to Yokohama, where they "forgot" to debark.

Immigration officials here discovered their presence when the Chinese on board was sent with the master of the crew.

GOVERNOR SIDES WITH LAS VEGAS

Threats of Railroaders Makes Nevada Executive Telegraph Officials

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
LAS VEGAS (Nev.), Aug. 18.—Referring to alleged threats made by subordinate officials of the Union Pacific here, that the railroad shops would be removed if the town did not give the railroad its fullest possible support, Gov. Emmet D. Boyle stated in a telegram tonight to E. E. Calvin, vice-president of the Union Pacific at Salt Lake City, that these "threats of reprisals made by your own officials and men against Las Vegas have left on general feeling among conservative employees and business men toward your company."

The Governor's telegram assured Mr. Calvin that "the State is policing your property and will continue to do so," and added that requests for protection of men serving passenger trains on the main line have been complied with and the trains are being loaded and watered "in the open, with no demonstration whatever."

PEACE PROPOSAL OFFERED

Brotherhood Chiefs Submit New Plan to End Strike; Conference Adjourned to Next Week

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—The five great railroad brotherhoods which have stepped into the nation-wide shopmen's strike as mediators today offered to the roads what they termed a practical proposition for peace and the roads took the proposal under consideration.

Neither side would officially disclose the terms of the proposition. In some quarters close to the conference, it was said that acceptance of the proposal by the executives would result in the immediate return of all strikers to their old jobs with full and unimpaired seniority and pension rights, in addition to retention of men hired since the strike.

The proposition, on the other hand, was outlined in other quarters as providing for restoration of strikers as rapidly as possible, with their seniority rights to be adjusted ultimately to the satisfaction of all.

The proposition in these quarters was understood to be in the nature of a gentleman's agreement. It would provide that the question which will arise at the end of the busy fall season would be handled as it has been in other years—according to the usual weeding out process.

The whole plan, it was unofficially indicated, would mean that without any apparent surrender by either the railroads or the shopmen, the strike would be ended.

Officials of the various State departments will send telegrams to the President urging him to sign the bill when it is received from the Senate, and in each department a delegation of Legion officials will call on the Governor of the State and request that he send a message to the President.

STATE PAYS AUTO BILLS

Denial by Department of Education Head is Refuted by Records

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
SACRAMENTO, Aug. 18.—Will C. Wood, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, who has become a part of the State machine effort to minimize State costs and attempt to re-elect Gov. Stephens, came off decidedly second best in a tilt with Mrs. Nellie Brewer Pierce, woman attorney, who is in Sacramento gathering information for the 217 State newspapers backing State Treasurer Richardson for Governor.

Mrs. Pierce several days ago issued a statement that the State Department of Education was functioning with the aid of fifteen State-subsidized privately-owned automobiles. She asserted that the fifteen privately-owned machines were operated at State expense on a scale of 8 to 10 cents a mile.

Mr. Wood publicly denied her assertion.

Her reply follows:

"The records in the office of the State Controller show that there are requests on file from the Department of Education for permission to collect 8 and 10 cents a mile for the fifteen private cars in the business of the State as follows:

STRIKE OF SHOPMEN INTENSIFIES MENACE

Public Menace in Coal Situation

More Serious at Beginning of July by the Strike of the Federated Shop Crafts in the Railroad Service

The public menace in the coal situation was made more acute and more serious at the beginning of July by the strike of the federated shop crafts in the railroad service. The strike against a wage decision made by the Railroad Labor Board directly affecting approximately 400,000 men. The justice of the decision is not for discussion here, but the fact that it has been lost sight of in subsequent developments is an event, it was always possible to appeal for rehearing and the commission of new evidence and it is always a safe assumption that a government agency of adjustment deciding unjustly will be quick to make any wrong.

The Railroad Labor Board was created by Congress for the express purpose of hearing and deciding disputes between the carriers and their employees, so that no controversy need lead to an interruption in interstate transportation. It was inevitable that many wage disputes should arise. Wages had been advanced during the war, and the cost of transportation was high. The carriers were not willing to pay the higher wages, and the employees were not willing to accept the lower wages. The Railroad Labor Board was created to settle these disputes, but it has been unable to do so.

CHINESE PEACE SOUGHT BY SUN

Delegates Are on Way to Li at Peking

Amicable Readjustment is Negotiator's Aim

Reunion of North, South Seems Near

(BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
SHANGHAI, Aug. 18.—Reunion of North and South China was brought nearer today with the announcement that two representatives of Sun Yat Sen, deposed President of the south, soon would go to Peking to confer with President Li Yuan Heng, and the general belief that Sun himself would follow with little delay.
Eugene Chen and Quo Tai-Chi, personal representatives of the southern leader, who preceded him in arriving from Canton, are the two chosen to negotiate at Peking, not only with President Li, but also with other principals whose agents have been in communication with Sun at Shanghai.

Sun Yat Sen discussing this latest development said: "I will proceed to Peking when circumstances warrant, but negotiations have not yet reached a point at which I can make a definite statement."
He believes that about 100 members of the old republican Parliament have been remaining in Shanghai since leaving Canton and I am advising them to proceed immediately to Peking to join the group already there and to assume their duties.

ENTER NO COMBINE

"I am not able to make any statement on the details of the conferences here, but am telling representatives of all factions and interests that I am not seeking any partisan alliance, and that I will enter no combine with one or more groups or parties against others. I am emphasizing my single aim to effect a general readjustment and settlement real reunification of the country and the restoration of a real peace.

"As to the choice of a President, that others can follow this paramount question of restoring peace and I am exerting all my influence to effect this purpose.

FRIENDLY BASIS

"I am seeking to bring together on a friendly basis Chang Tso-Lin (Governor of Manchuria) and Wu Pei-Fu (northern military leader, who defeated Chang Tso-Lin and revived the old republican Parliament) and I have some reason to believe that I shall succeed."
Sun Yat Sen, since his flight from Canton and his arrival here, has become the center and keystone of a series of factional conferences in Shanghai. His home here in the Rue Moller, in the French settlement, has become the mecca for political leaders of all shades of opinion, and the scene of numerous dinners at which politics is the main dish.

Last night Sun entertained Sue Tush and others representing "Kun, powerful northern military leader for whom a Presidential nomination has been launched at Peking. At the same time as representatives of Wu Pei-Fu.

Tonight it was the turn of the Chen and others, who are friends of the little ex-bandit Governor of Manchuria, headed by Gen. Min, partook of Sun Yat Sen's bread and butter.

INTERESTING FUNCTIONS

These two functions were of special interest because of Sun's endorsement of Chang in the latter's recent unsuccessful military campaign against Wu, a stroke of policy which is credited with alienating much of Sun's support in Canton.

Tomorrow evening President Li Yuan Heng's delegates will have their inking at the southern chieftain's dinner table in the Rue Moller, when the President's kinsman Li Shu, will be the guest of honor.

Sun Yat Sen's followers do not hide their growing confidence that their leader's star, temporarily eclipsed by Chen Chung-Ming and Tip Kue at Canton and Shanghai, again is on the rise and that his aspirations are about to be realized, but just what these aspirations are has not yet been definitely stated.

The ex-President of South China sidesteps all reference to his candidacy for the Presidency of all China, but his followers are so modest and they do not view with alarm the effect of the influx of 100 more southern members of Parliament, whose votes may be counted on to fall for Sun in an election for a new Chief Executive for the nation.

PULLING HAIR SENDS HIM TO WORKHOUSE

JUDGE GUESSES HE WAS SUCKER FOR PLAYING WITH GIRL

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Imre Schreiber, graduate of the University of Budapest and now a jewelry salesman at $40 a week, was sentenced to the workhouse for ten days today.

The charge was simple assault, it being alleged that he pulled the hair of Miss Jean Robertson, an actress, and that he slapped her.

"I think," said Justice Healy, addressing the prisoner, "that you played your part as a sucker."

Schreiber said he thought so, too. Last May, Schreiber, Miss Robertson, her chaperon, Miss Una Holmes, and Capt. B. P. Hoey, an Army officer, were dining in a Hungarian restaurant on the East Side.

The party returned about 3 o'clock in the morning to the home of Miss Robertson and Schreiber thinking the men were supposed to say good-night at the sidewalk started to take his leave. But he became angry when he saw Capt. Hoey ascend the stairs and went up, too.

Presently he is alleged to have slapped Miss Robertson. Subsequently he was arrested; sentence was suspended and another case brought by Miss Robertson dismissed. But the one today held the light.

SHORTBRIDGE IN TARIFF FIGHT

California Senator Doing Much for His State

Forced Protection on All Grape Products

Expects Fight for Other Commodities

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—Senator Shortridge, who is diligently watching every move in the tariff fight in his own state, is making successful fights for protection of California products nearly every day and will be most effective of all when the bill passes the Senate tomorrow and goes into conference. Few Senators from any State have had more perfect records for alertness and attention to tariff items for the products of the State than has Senator Shortridge, and it is almost impossible to get him to leave the Senate floor during the discussion of the tariff. He remains even in the longest sessions until the Senate recesses and can neither be caught napping or negligent of California's needs.

GRAPE GROWERS PROTECTED

His latest accomplishment is to protect the California grape growers against a well-planned campaign of the French vineyardists. They have been making frantic efforts to flood this country with grape juice and grape syrup, which, by simple processes, can be converted into wine by home brewing purchases.

Senator Shortridge was able to get a rate of 70 cents on both grape juice and grape syrup, and a rate of 25 cents on the French wine.

He believes that he will be able to hold these rates in conference although the House permitted all of these items to remain on the free lists and there promises to be a hot fight when the Senate is insisted upon.

HELP IF NECESSARY

In this struggle he will be assisted by the prohibition enforcement officers, who are against the importation of these products as an additional means of violation of the Volstead Act as well as by the grape growers of California.

Senator Shortridge expects also some resistance to the protection of the rates on almonds, walnuts, rice, sugar, citric acid, olives and other products.

COMPLAINT MADE ON RENAMING OLD FILMS

AMERICAN FILM CORPORATION ACCUSED OF REISSUING AGED PICTURES

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—The Federal Trade Commission has issued a complaint against the American Film Corporation of Chicago, distributors of motion-picture films. The complaint is given thirty days in which to answer after which the case will be tried on its merits.

The case against the film company involves the question of unfair methods of competition in the leasing and selling of old and second-class motion-picture films under the name of new pictures.

The complaint states that the company has been selling the contracts for such films called for first run or new photoplays. This practice, the complaint states, had the tendency to deceive and mislead the exhibitors and their patrons into the belief that these new-named pictures had not previously been displayed.

MINERS SEND ULTIMATUM

Illinois Unions Refuse Arbitration and Demand That Operators Accept Their Contract

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—Sign on the dotted line of the agreement drawn up at Cleveland, or the coal strike in Illinois must continue. This is the ultimatum to Illinois mine operators, delivered by Frank Farrington, president of the Illinois union mine workers, and Harry Flahwick, vice-president of the State miners' union. The latter added: "We have brought to Chicago a contract based upon the Cleveland agreement. That is what the operators will have to sign."

ALL OR NONE TO WORK
President Farrington made it plain there would be no partial resumption of mining in Illinois. "All Illinois miners will go back to work, or none will," he said. "We must sink or swim together. Illinois miners must stand by the Cleveland contract to the end."

"We had two reasons for signing at Cleveland. The strike was about to collapse because the miners in the outlying districts were about to give up and return to work. The other reason was a flood of telegrams from miners in Illinois urging me to follow the national policy committee."

Notwithstanding this ultimatum, the operators are firmly holding out for an arbitration clause. The mine unions say there can be no arbitration; that their union rules positively forbid it. Domains must be met. There is a possibility, which appears to be growing stronger, that troops will be sent into five Illinois counties where the unions are striking and burning fields of coal being sent in from the non-striking fields of Kentucky. The Adjutant-General of the State, upon the advice of the Governor, has put the matter squarely up to the sheriffs in the five counties, telling them that unless they can and will immediately protect property, the State will take charge of the idle machinery in their districts.

CONDONE GRAIN EXPORT

Government Experts Say Reds Forced to Ship Wheat Through Stern Necessity

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—The decision of the Russian soviet government to export at least a part of the grain crop now maturing in Russia will work to the benefit of American grain growers, in the opinion of government experts. The indignation felt in many quarters in this country at the announced intention of the Moscow authorities to export grain when the country is recovering from the most terrible famine in its history is entirely unwarranted, officials point out.

Far from operating to the detriment of the Russian people, this course of action, experts believe, is dictated by stern necessity. The misunderstanding on this subject arose, they point out, from the fact that the Soviet negotiates at The Hague, either intentionally or unintentionally, gave the impression that grain was to be exported from Russia this year because there was a surplus above the needs of the Russian population.

NO SUCH SURPLUS
Since it was known here that no such surplus could probably exist, some officials jumped to the conclusion that Lenin and his government intended to disregard the needs of the peasant population and export grain in order to obtain funds badly needed to support their government. It was thought they had determined to trust to the charity of the American Relief Association and other organizations to bring the peasant populations through another winter of starvation.

Inquiry developed that this assumption was entirely unwarranted. The matter is that no surplus of grain exists in Russia today nor will exist after the present harvest is passed. In the southern part of Russia there apparently is a good crop of grain, especially in the Ukraine and the Caucasus once known as the "granary of Europe." In the northern and northeastern districts, however, there is not enough grain, as has always been the case, even in pre-revolutionary days. Always this section of the country has imported wheat from the southern provinces.

Such a movement of grain from the southward, however, will be virtually impossible this year, it is asserted, owing to the terrible disintegration of the transportation lines of Russia. To obviate this, lack of transportation the Russian authorities contemplate the shipment of all grain above the amount needed for the people of that section to ports on the Black Sea, thence to be shipped to the Greek, Italian, and other markets.

With the credits thus created, the Soviet government expects to enter the markets of London and Liverpool, purchasing supplies of grain and other foodstuffs which could easily be transported to Moscow. Petrograd and other northern districts of Russia which are now cut off from the southern wheat fields.

POLAND INCREASES ARMY NEAR RUSSIA

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
WARSAW, Aug. 18.—Poland's army, which normally numbers 250,000 troops, is being increased to 300,000 due to the presence of Russian forces on the Polish frontier. The strength of the Soviet divisions, it is reported, has been increased from 10,000 to 30,000. Reports also have been received here that Moscow has been making attempts to obtain military supplies and explosives in the United States but without success. It is believed by Polish military authorities that the Soviet government is also attempting to obtain supplies from Czechoslovakia plants.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—The slow but steady absorption of stocks at constantly rising prices continued in today's stock market, which showed a tendency to break away from the restraint imposed by pending labor troubles.

Dealings, which total 450,000 shares, continued to be largely in the hands of professional operators but accumulation by investors and interests was reflected in the conspicuous strength of several high grade shares. More than a dozen new high records for the year were again recorded by active issues, but most of the gains were of a nominal nature.

President Harding's declaration to Congress that the government would use all its power to maintain transportation and the right of men to work was well received in the financial community, but it had no sensible effect on prices. Rail shares held firm, the sharp advance in Chicago and Eastern Illinois common and preferred, which was up 3 1/2 and 3 1/4 respectively, being the outstanding exception to the general fractional changes in prices of carriers.

Trading in industrials featured today's session. United States Steel common pushing through 104 to a highest level in two years, with relatively unimportant fluctuations shown by equipments, sugars, domestic oils and a number of specialties.

Average price levels of railroad and industrial shares are now at the highest levels of the year. Mexican and domestic oils continued to be more active, with the former showing pronounced weakness and the latter exhibiting marked strength. Mexican Petroleum moved within comparatively narrow limits but closed at a loss of 1 point, with corresponding weakness in the latter.

Sugar shares recovered from the heaviness imposed by the Senate's action in raising the tariff duty on American sugar pushing up 3 points to a new high record with sympathetic advances taking place in Cuban Cane, Puente Alegre and Manati.

Copper shares, which have been playing the role of wall flowers recently because of more active day, moderate advances being recorded by Utah, Inspiration, Kennecott, Butte and Superior and American Refining and Refining.

Call money opened at 3 1/2 percent but eased off to 3 in the final hour. Time money rates were unchanged with little activity being reported for the day.

Foreign exchanges were irregular, early strength giving way to weakness as the day progressed. Sterling was down 1 1/4 from yesterday's close, with only nominal declines being reported in the European rates. German marks continued to collapse, selling as low as 1 1/4 cents a hundred with little business being transacted.

Leaders of this group touched new heights for the present movement during the trading session, but reacted somewhat later. COURT TO DECIDE CUSTODY OF BABE

MOTHER PROTESTS ADOPTION OF CHILD, AND DENIES ABANDONMENT

Custody of Frank Bolinski, 4-year-old son of Mrs. Hilda Bolinski of Salt Lake City, who two years ago was temporarily adopted by Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Van Vleet of this city, will probably be determined next week in the court of Judge Berlin A. Ward.

Mrs. Bolinski came from her home when she learned that the Van Vleet family were entering final adoption papers for the child and protested against the petition declaring the child abandoned. This petition is necessary under California law before a final adoption decree is issued. Testimony, however, showed that Mrs. Bolinski was willing to relinquish the boy for $400.

WORKS OF BEAUTY FROM HANDS OF INDIANS

MEXICO SENDS DISPLAY HERE

Objects of Art to be Shown at Pageant Exhibit Conveyed to City on Special Cars Famous Painters Accompany Collection

The Mexican government is sending to California's Pageant of Progress and Industry Exposition the largest collection of Mexican art objects ever to leave the republic. Roberto Turnbull, an agent of the Department of Commerce, arrived here yesterday with the first news of the display, which will exceed in magnitude and quality anything expected by the local Chamber of Commerce.

The exposition from Mexico is designed to show the artistic and industrial merits of the Mexican Indian, who has piled his arts and crafts with little modification since the advent of the Spaniards. The Mexican government has a practical plan in view, President Obregon is said to be interested in the scheme to establish stores for the sale of the Indian handicraft in the United States and Europe.

OPPOSES MACHINERY In this venture the Mexican leader hopes to improve the condition of the Indian, who latterly has found a poor market for his artistic creations. The government is said to oppose the industrialization of the Indians of the extreme South, because, with the advent of machinery, their manual skill would depart, and it is hoped that by showing the outside world the beauties of their creation a market can be found which would make continuation of their work profitable.

The display is of more than 100,000 pieces, Mr. Turnbull said. It is being conveyed here in four cars on a special train, which arrived yesterday at El Paso and will be here in good time for the arrangement of the pieces by next Saturday, when the exposition opens at Exposition Park.

"I am taking this exposition to New York and other eastern cities," Mr. Turnbull said, "and for a time there was some question about whether we would send it to Los Angeles. But President Obregon himself, who is a great friend of Los Angeles, said it must go to the exposition here before proceeding to the eastern cities."

ARTISTS ALSO ON WAY Unlike most exhibitions sent from Mexico, the present one will have no bundles of hemp or sacks of corn in it. It will be artistic throughout. And, in addition, it is accompanied by two distinguished Mexican artists who will bring specimens of their work. One is X. G. Guerrero, who works in water color, and specializes in the interiors of old churches. The other is Adolfo Best, who has received the highest honors in the charge of the art section of the exhibit, and Senator Turnbull of the commercial section. The work of these artists will be shown in the United States, barring an exhibit of his several years ago in New York.

EXHIBIT LACWORK The pieces of the exhibit are of pottery, particularly of Guadalupe, weaving and embroidery, lacwork, jewelry, hammered copper and some fine specimens of the gold and silver filigree of Taxco. There also will be a great number of wax and clay statues, for which the southern Mexican Indians are famed.

Aside from the modern pieces the collection contains several specimens of the pre-Columbian Indian work. These latter were loaned by William Niven, a noted American archeologist, who has been digging in the ruins of Aztec and Mayan cities for several years.

ART DIRECTOR TO ACT AS HOSTESS Mrs. Mabel E. Clark, art director for the Los Angeles Art center, will act as hostess tonight when "society night" will be observed at the Nore Studio, 1444 1/2 Wilcox avenue, conducted by Mrs. Haakon Frolich, the Hollywood sculptor. More than 300 invitations have been sent out to Los Angeles society folk. An informal program will be given by members of the art center.

TIN MEDALS FOR BOXERS Leather Pushers Convert Trophies Into Ready Currency. Information as to how professional prize fighters receive compensation for their glove pushing in evasion of the law reached the ears of the Police Commission yesterday. The State law relative to ring contests prohibits boxers from receiving cash remuneration for their exhibitions.

How do the gentlemen of the ring eat and live then? No, they do not exhibit their cauliflower ears behind counters in the department stores. This is the way it happens as told by the commissioners.

After the prize fight the contestants are said to be given a tin medal for their service by the promoter of the bout which is sold back to the donor for prices ranging from $25 to $100.

POWER NEEDS INCREASE Edison Company Hastens Work on Fourteen-Mile Tunnel in Sierras to Reach 1923 Goal Unless the Southern California Edison Company's plans for 1923 do not go awry, 500,000 horsepower of developed electricity will be distributed during the next year.

With this amount their goal, fourteen miles of tunnel in the Sierras are being rushed to completion in order to gain the additional 125,000 horsepower needed. More than 4500 men in camps extending over a line of sixty-five miles are engaged in the extension of lines, construction of powerhouses and other work incidental thereto in order to bring developed power to the 240 cities and towns in the ten counties of Central and Southern California that the company supplies.

During this year, according to Vice-President Ballard, $27,500,000 will be expended by the company on these different works. The company will not stop with its 500,000 horsepower, for an installation and development program expected to continue until 1935 has been promulgated, when completed will give the company an installed capacity of 1,500,000 developed horsepower.

Preliminary development on the Kern River, in Kern county, and on the Upper San Joaquin, is now underway.

Mexican Given Year Term for Stabbing Wife Felix Melendez admitted yesterday before Judge Vicini, sitting for Judge Shenk, that he wrecked a knife from Modesta Gonzales, his common law wife, and stabbed her on May 20, last. The woman died and he was accused of murder.

Public Defender Aggeler presented testimony to the court that indicated the woman was jealous of the defendant and attacked him on the street. Melendez was permitted to withdraw a plea of not guilty and plead guilty to manslaughter, with consent of Deputy District Attorney Powell.

The defendant waived time for sentence and was sentenced to San Quentin for one to ten years.

DOCTOR FOUND WITH BULLET HOLE IN HEAD Dr. Henry N. Cross of Stockton, was found dead yesterday in the room of a hotel at Sandberg, a wayside stop on the Ridge route. A bullet, had entered the temple. Nearby lay a revolver, but there was no note, no word of explanation.

The body was discovered by Les Smythe, of Merced, a brother of Mrs. Belle Gribb, superintendent of the Merced county schools. He and his physician, Dr. Cross, were on their way to Los Angeles for a medical consultation. The shock of the discovery brought Smythe to the verge of collapse.

Dr. Cross seemed in the best of spirits when he retired last night, said the patient yesterday. No motive for the supposed suicide has been found by the authorities.

AUTO HITS PEDESTRIAN WHO DIES Injuries First Believed Minor Prove Fatal to Woman; Man Jailed Knocked down by an automobile as she stepped out from the curbing in front of her home at 2245 West eighth street yesterday morning, Miss Ruth E. Thompson, aged 32 years, received injuries from which she died several hours later, according to a police report.

The automobile was driven by Anton Teufel of 824 Francisco street, it was said. According to Detective Sergeant Herman Cline, at the time of the accident the girl was not believed to have been seriously hurt. Teufel stopped immediately after the accident, he reported, and aided in carrying the injured girl into her home. Her father, a physician, was called and Miss Thompson was given medical aid. It was not thought at the time that it was necessary to take the injured girl to the Receiving Hospital, according to Detective Cline. Later, however, the girl died.

The body of Miss Thompson was removed from her home to the Pierce Bros. undertaking establishment. Teufel, former Swiss sailor, in Los Angeles to work in motion pictures, was arrested at his home last night on a manslaughter charge, as the result of the accident in which Miss Thompson was killed.

MOORE A REAL REPUBLICAN AND FOR CALIFORNIA, NOT A PRIVATE BOSS; AID HIM! When Charles C. Moore was directing the administration of the great Panama-Pacific Exposition in San Francisco in 1915 he made some powerful enemies by insisting that the great Pacific Coast enterprise be conducted for the benefit of all the people and not for a few politicians and capitalists.

As a candidate for the Republican nomination for United States Senator, Mr. Moore is representing the rank and file of California Republicans, excepting the paid bosses and professional political workers that are behind the candidacy of Mr. Moore's opponent.

While this strict independence from any unworthy influence or political combination assures Mr. Moore a free hand as California's next Senator, it has directly prevented any large contribution to his campaign fund and has necessitated frugal expenditure of such contributions as have been made by those willing to finance, as their means might permit, the Republican cause.

One week remains in which to reach voters with literature dealing with the paramount issues of the campaign and it is to meet such necessary expenditure adequately that the following appeal for funds has been issued by Maj. O. C. Wyman, Southern California manager of the Moore-for-Senator Club:

"If you endorse the platform and policies of Charles C. Moore please fill out and return the blank below, accompanying it by your check or cash contribution.

"TO MOORE-FOR-SENATOR HEADQUARTERS, "Loew's State Building, "Los Angeles, Cal.

"Being a supporter of Charles C. Moore for United States Senator and desiring to do my share in assisting in the election of a REAL REPUBLICAN to represent this State at Washington, I herewith contribute $..... TO THE MOORE-FOR-SENATOR campaign and enroll myself as a member of the MOORE-FOR-SENATOR CLUB.

DISMISS INDICTMENT AGAINST FILM MAN The fate of Capt. W. G. Coburn, formerly head of the Ku Klux Klan on the Pacific Coast, and G. W. Price, present leader of the hooded organization in California, was placed in the hands of Judge Houser yesterday at the conclusion of the State's case against the thirty-six men charged with the responsibility for the Inglewood raid.

The matter was brought up on a motion, the second of a series with which the defendant forces plan to open their battle for the freedom of the defendants, to dismiss the indictments against Coburn and Price on the grounds of insufficient evidence. After lengthy arguments by Attorneys Paul Barksdale D'Orr and A. L. Abrahams for the defendants and Deputy Dist. Atty. Keyes, the court took the matter under advisement until Monday.

His decision will mean freedom for one or both of the defendants, or place the question of their guilt or innocence up to the jury empaneled to try the case.

The first motion for a dismissal, made by Attorney Abrahams on behalf of Defendant M. D. Moll, motion-picture man of 424 West twenty-fifth street, marked the victory for the defense when the court ordered the indictment against Moll dismissed and his bond exonerated. The State did not oppose the motion. No testimony was introduced during the trial to connect Mr. Moll with the raid, and the prosecution was unable to show that he authorized the signing of his name to the list of the raiders submitted by Attorney D'Orr to the District Attorney's office.

STRONG FINISH PREDICTED IN RACE Candidates Working Hard on Last $30 Club Offer

RIVALRY IS INCREASING

$500 In Gold Is

During Remainder of Race$30 Club Offer Expected to be Deciding FactorThey are going to finish strong.That is the conclusion of the campaign manager of the Times $70,000
prize race.Here's why he thinks so:

1. Reports from cities and towns outside Los Angeles show that quite a few candidates—new ones
—who a couple of weeks ago were far down on the list, are today among the leaders.

2. The extra prize—$500 in gold—to be given the candidate, regardless of district or division, who turns in the highest amount in new subscription payments during the last $30 club offer, is an unusual incentive to ambitious candidates.

As in all campaigns, big results are accomplished at the end. It is believed, and correctly, that effort put forth from now until the end of the last $30 club offer will be a deciding factor in determining who will win the $16,500
home, the $8000 bungalow, the twenty automobiles
and numerous other prizes to be distributed among the successful ones at the close of the campaign
September 2.

One thing is certain—with the value of the prize list at such a high figure many will make a deter-

The Times in Wilshire
Crest, the Beverly Hills

garden that will fittingly complement such a home.The usual profusion of flowers, shrubs and trees will be absent. The effect sought will be rather one of simplicity than an exotic horticultural display.The service features of the garden have not been overlooked—it is the Tuscan ideal that gardens are to be lived in, rather than looked at.The fortunate candidate who wins the $16,500 Wil-signed by Meyer & Holler, will find the garden all

ONE BIG CHANCE TO WIN PRIZE

Every New Subscription
Now Vital in Last $30 Club OfferThe last $30 club offer is the one big chance to drive home victory. Besides the special prize of $500 in gold, $5,000 extra votes will be given on each $30 club of new subscriptions turned in on or before August 26-3 p.m. That is the close of the special offer—positively the LAST $30 club and gold offer of the campaign.Every remaining day and hour of this offer are important. In the rush and tumult of the remaining period one is apt to overlook opportunities that may cause disappointment later. Candidates are urged to make careful survey of their field so that every possible source of votes will be made to yield every possible subscription.There are many people who earlier in the campaign promised candidates
they would help them later.
Now is the time to get them to fulfill their promises, while the special offer is in effect.

HAVE YOU USED FORM LETTERS?

The campaign department still has on hand a small supply of form letters for the use of candidates who wish to write to friends, whom they cannot see personally, to get their subscriptions.These letters will be furnished free to candidates and should prove a big help in getting subscriptions from friends and acquaintances in distant cities.If you can use some of these letters, write to the campaign department, or call at the campaign office, and state the number desired.Only a limited quantity remains, so speak up early.
Pink subscription blanks to accompany these letters will also be furnished.

$5,000 EXTRA VOTES

Given to every candidate who secures 100 new subscriptions during the last $30 club offer.

NATIONAL PROFESSIONAL GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP WON BY GENE SARAZEN

FRENCH DEFEATED BY FORMER CADDY, 4 AND 3

Finish Morning Round All Youthful Champion Wins on Thirty-Third Green

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 18.—Four years ago Gene Sarazen, then a caddy, won the national professional golf championship at Oakmont. He is now a professional golfer and has just won the championship again, this time as a player.

Sarazen, who was formerly a caddy for the late Harry Vardon, won the championship by defeating Emmett French in the final round of the tournament. The match was played on the thirty-third green and Sarazen won by a score of 4 and 3.

The tournament was held at the Oakmont Country Club and attracted a large crowd of spectators. Sarazen's victory was a surprise to many, as he was not considered a favorite to win.

The youthful Pittsburgh professional, after winning the national open championship last month, conclusively proved his right to the title by defeating Emmett French in the final round of the national professional championships yesterday.

BOUT DEFINITELY OFF

Governor Officially Prohibits Dempsey-Brennan Fistic Exhibition at Michigan City

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 18.—There will be no boxing contest between Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion, and Challenger Bill Brennan at Chicago in Floyd Fitzsimmons' bowl at Michigan City on the afternoon of September 4.

This was the edict handed down late this afternoon by Gov. Warren T. McCray after he had held a conference with a delegation of Michigan City business men, led by Attorney Matt Kenefick. Following the conference the Governor issued the following statement:

"I notice from the press reports that a Dempsey-Brennan fight is being planned. I have been informed that there is a direct and positive statute against prize fighting in this State. I have read the statute carefully and do not see how it could be more plainly written."

"I assume any encounter in which the world's champion engages would naturally be classed as a prize fight. The fact that such an engagement is being planned as high as $25,000 would indicate positively that it is not to be a mere exhibition or boxing match."

"Inasmuch as the law is plain and unmistakable, it must not be violated. I did not make the law and therefore am not responsible for its being broken. I have taken an oath to maintain the supremacy of the law. I am responsible for its enforcement."

"I cannot consistently, or conscientiously permit our laws to be openly and flagrantly violated in the face of the public. At the same time have troops stationed in other parts of the State to see that the laws are upheld."

"I, therefore, demand of you, as follows:

HELEN WILLS TO FACE MOLLA

San Francisco Girl Defeats Mrs. Bundy With Ease

Miss Leslie Bancroft Loses to Mrs. Mallory

Finals in Women's Singles Scheduled Today

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
FOREST HILLS, (N. Y.) Aug. 18.—Sixteen-year-old Helen Wills of California furnished a sensation on the courts of the West Side Tennis Club today by defeating Mrs. May Sutton Bundy, champion of 1904, and favorite to reach the title round, in the semifinal of the women's national championship. The youthful tennis prodigy accomplished her triumph in straight sets of 6-4, 6-3 and 6-2, and appeared to be mistress of the situation from start to finish. Varying pace and length puzzlingly driving with great power and accuracy, and showing perfect coolness in the heat of the swiftest rallies the Pacific Coast girl outplayed her opponent and outlasted her. Mrs. Bundy, after a great effort in the first set, seemed to tire in the second and flashed her best only streaks. She was unable to keep pace with the ball and her control, too, suffered at critical stages. She dropped three games during the set in which she held a 4-1 lead, and was forced to gain speed, strength and accuracy with every game and stroked with supreme daring and confidence.

In defeating Mrs. Bundy, little Miss Wills achieved a real upset as her rival has been in the national and international end of the spotlight for twenty years. Mrs. Bundy won her first national championship two years before Miss Wills was born.

HUNTER WILL NOT DEFEND HIS TITLE

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
DEL MONTE, Aug. 18.—Dr. Paul M. Hunter, California golf champion for the past two years, will not defend his title in this year's tournament at the Del Monte and Pebble Beach course, September 2 to 10, according to a letter from him received today. Dr. Hunter wrote from his home in Pasadena that, owing to the serious illness of his mother, he would be unable to play.

JOHNSTON WINS AT NEWPORT

Defeats Hugh Kelleher in Straight Sets; French Team Defaults

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
CABINO, NEWPORT (R. I.) Aug. 18.—With the Casino singles tournament counted among the tennis successes of "Little Bill" Johnston of San Francisco, for the first time in his many years' quest of it, interest in the racket play today turned to the doubles competition.

This interest was served in a dramatic manner by one of the two semifinal matches. The old Davis cup combination of Williams and Washburn, won their way to tomorrow's final by defeating E. J. Vothall, New York, and E. W. Davis, San Francisco, 6-4, 6-3, 7-5, but the Kinsey brothers, Howard and Robert of San Francisco, went ahead after what was virtually a straight-set defeat.

Henri Cochet, soldier of France, on leave, to represent his country, in the Davis cup play, met W. Niles of Boston, opposed the Kinseys in the semifinal round. They turned the Pacific Coast champions back in two sets, 6-4, 6-3, and with difficulty, the second with a 6-4 score. Cochet and Niles then pressed their advantage hard in the third set, winning it 6-3. The Kinseys won their second set, 6-4, and then the match was all over. They won the match 6-4, 6-3, 6-3.

When "Little Bill" Johnston chased the jinx which has hampered him here for years, defeating Hugh G. Kelleher of New York in the first round, 6-4, 6-3, 6-3, for the singles victory this morning, he became one of six men who have won legs on the Casino courts in the past three months. Johnston, who is a native of San Francisco, had won the Davis cup for his country in 1910, and had won the Wimbledon singles title in 1915.

SPAIN LOSES TO AUSTRALIA

Ansacs Gain Advantage in Davis Cup Play

Patterson and Wood Defeat Alonso and De Gomar

Doubles Match is Devoid of Close Competition

(BY WILLIAM T. TILDEN II.)
PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 18.—Australia went into the lead by two matches to one over Spain when Gerald L. Patterson and Pat O'Hara Wood defeated Manuel Alonso and Count de Gomar in sequence sets on the courts of the Germantown Cricket Club, in the final round of the Davis cup tie, 6-3, 6-3, 6-4.

It was a decisive clean-cut victory for the Australians, who were in danger of the Antipodean team went into the offense with the first point and held it to the end. The Spanish pair never could really make a foothold against the superb volleying and smashing of the Australians. The first set opened with a break of Alonso's service, but Patterson's shot at the net. This net attack on their opponents' service is the key to the first set in the doubles play. The partner of the receiver stands in, as does the net man and attempts to kill the server's volley. The entire success or failure of the system depends on the receiver of service which to succeed must be low, fast and accurate. Wood well had Patterson's return service, particularly of Patterson's delivery, was too high and slow, allowing the Australians to kill off the shot to any portion of the court. Manuel Alonso strove valiantly but in vain, to stem defeat. He could not do so. He spoiled the effects of his match with Wood in his uncertainty of the ground and a certain lack of punch.

The final set saw Spain throw away her only chance, when she led 4-3 with Wood serving, but four successive errors by Alonso and Count de Gomar lost his delivery, aided by two double faults.

A most amusing incident on Patterson's service was the 4-6 match point for Australia. Patterson served a fault to De Gomar, then placed a perfect delivery but was forced to serve a 4-6. The crowd grew restive wondering if the same sensational ending to this match would result as happened in the Wood-Alonso match. Patterson, calmly settled himself and drove over two aces ending the match and giving Australia the lead.

It was not a great doubles match. Patterson will be the outstanding star with twenty-two placements and four double faults. Wood's five errors and five double faults. Manuel Alonso shone for Spain but he could not make up for Count de Gomar's inability to cope with the speed of the Australian pair.

Tomorrow at 2:15, Count de Gomar meets Wood in what may prove the deciding match of the series. Spain must win this to have a chance. De Gomar has a fine fault and against Wood he can face the accurate steadiness of Wood far better than he could the blinding speed of Patterson. I believe the match will be close, certainly four sets and might even result in a victory for Spain. For De Gomar is improving while Wood is stiff and sore in the shoulder from his previous matches.

Should Spain win the first match tomorrow, then the whole tie will hinge on the final match between Alonso and Patterson. Should the decision hang on this battle I would expect to see full five sets before victory could be claimed by either team. De Gomar is more of a steady player than Wood, but Patterson is a more accurate and powerful player. He did with Wood. Frankly, if the match is squared at two-all I think that Spain is as likely to be the challenger of America as is Australia.

Tomorrow is the big day, Spain or Australia. Take your choice.

ACORNS BOW TO SERAPHS

Dumovich Beats Krauss in Southpaw Battle

Lindimore Drives in Tally That Settles It

Cather Gives Local Fans a Scare in Ninth

(BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.)
Los Angeles recovered from its shock of the day before sufficiently to trim Oakland, 4 to 2.

The affair was a chase pitching duel between Nick Dumovich, a mere southpaw sapling, but recently in place of the nursery, and Harry Krauss, a gnarled left-hander.

The Angels put over what would have been the tying score in the first round had they scored no more. But they counted another in the fourth, and the two runs which the Oaks bunched in the third did them no lasting good.

Dumovich held the two-base specialists of the day before to four hits, and two of these being grouped in one inning with a walk.

Krauss' men became keener earlier, with Red himself holding out of the game, of program and civilization. The Angels bunched in the first, with McAuley laying down the conventional sacrifice, Charley Deal cranked a double and there was a stack of red hair as Krauss crossed the plate. McCabe sacrificed even so late in the inning and placed Deal in position to score without exertion of Two-b's single.

One down and the whole route to go in third, when Koehler teamed with Red himself. Krauss doubled with both hands, and Koehler kicked in with a run. Brown twisted a fly to Twombly, after which White whiffed for one base, registering the other half of the Oakland battery. Denny believed he had whiffed for two bases, and was slipped trying to stretch it that far. Carroll's throw and McAuley's relay to Lindimore foiled the frantic run.

Los Angeles put peddle on next time with one in fourth. After McCabe had fouled, Twombly singled, and the Angels were full. While Day fled to Wildfire Schulte in the grass, Carroll and Lindimore bracketed singles, Twombly touching plate with winning run, while Carroll took third. In attempted double steal, Carroll was trapped on line and run down by Lindimore, who was in the right of friends and home.

Krauss unfurled good ball, but getting that run in the fourth set, he had made it four.

Doc Crandall rolled up to park in new enclosed car. It is feared that eight days of place and power have made Doc stiff. He was once satisfied to ride in an air-cooled silver with the wind whistling through his whiskers, and listening to twelve men jump up by dashing bus. Guy who rides car should not throw handball.

Doc had one class call coming down to street level. One-eyed silver came out of a side street and almost jumped through the east window of his car. Doc's car missed to strike car to leave fork from a lane in a moderate manner. Silver takes a running start in a side street, hits gutter and then sneaks running brood jump into the middle of the main thoroughfare. Side streets seem to be loaded with tin ammunition fired with high-powered explosive.

Krauss again played first base with Tom Daly drawing on the wire. Red missed a good first out, as the infielders like to shoot at a bright and shining mark.

Legal Notice—Reward of one good swift punch in nose offered miserably now-down, but under-sized, half-cooked, polluted piece of overripe tripe who walked away with my typewriter at the hotel yesterday.

MARKS BOX GOOD DRAW

Lavigne Outclasses Bobby Gray in Every Round at Legion Hollywood Arena

(BY GERALD FIDGE.)
George Marks, bantamweight champion of the Coast, and Teddy Silva must battle again to settle the difference between them. Last night these battles fought a bout in the main event that was nip and tuck all the way. They took turns at roughing it and had the crowd on its toes throughout the milling. Marks looked Silva several times in the opening round and as a result took a slight lead. Silva evened the going in the second round by uncovering a number of clean rights and lefts to George's jaw. The third and fourth rounds were exceedingly torrid and the boxers stood fifty-fifty on the point list.

George Lavigne won a clean-cut decision over Bobby Gray, of Denver in the semi-windup. Lavigne doled out a steady lacing, but the Eastern welter came back grinding for more. The local man might have finished his opponent, but it was plain that he didn't have a heavy weapon in his arm. Let it be said, that the Colorado is a game youngster, and he won a lot of friends last night.

Good Lavin administered a severe lacing to one Fred Brady. Brady was completely closed and he fell in a heap in the first round. He rose to his feet, but it was evident that he was "out on his feet" and was being counted out as the gong sounded. Referee George Blake properly halted the fight in the beginning of the second round.

Jack Burns ran into some pretty fast company when he faced Walter Grayack, a Milwaukee bantamweight. Burns was the core, but the two-fisted qualities of the visitor offset Burns' heart and Grayack took the honors.

Eddy Fitter, Mexican 121-pound champion, excelled Pucky McMillin in ring warfare and thereby took the prize. Johnny Lee put up a fine fight against Louis Stelmeyer, a 155-pounder who possesses one of the most powerful punches ever seen in these parts. It was a terrific session with Stelmeyer the winner at the finish. James McGuckie had the best of an argument with Frankie Jerome in the curtain raiser.

The new quarter, augmented by a boy orator, put on a little entertainment for the multitude, and coaxed considerable loose change out of the pockets of the fans for the newboys' gymnasium fund.

SET RULES FOR TOURNEY

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18.—United States Golf Association rules, with four modifications, will govern the California golf championship which takes place on the Del Monte and Pebble Beach courses September 29. It was announced today by W. M. Armstrong, secretary of the California Golf Association.

The four modifications are: Steel shafts will not be barred; lost ball penalty, distance only; out of bounds penalty, stroke only; unplayable lie penalty, stroke and distance.

Only members of clubs belonging to the California Golf Association will be permitted to play in the championship. Indications are that more than 100 men and eighty women will enter, according to Armstrong.

On Sunday, September 3, there will be team matches between the north and south for the Roger Lapham trophy and as a side attraction a 15-hole medal competition for left-handed players, which is expected practically to settle the question of who is the best "southpaw" golfer in the State.

STELLAR WORK

The decisive character of the girl's play may be understood from the fact that she earned thirty-one of the total seventy-four points credited to her on clean placements and that a good percentage of the rest were errors forced by the power and accuracy of her return.

Throughout the match Miss Wills scored frequently with a soft return just over the net that caught Mrs. Bundy off guard. She played the ball line, in fact, played with the judgment of a skilled veteran and even the unsophisticated in the stands could appreciate her strategy.

MALLORY WINS

Mrs. Mallory, six times national champion, moved up to within a single match of her seventh title at Forest Hills by defeating Miss Leslie Bancroft of Boston in the first of the semifinals at 6-4, 6-4. It was the one-sided scores.

When "Little Bill" Johnston chased the jinx which has hampered him here for years, defeating Hugh G. Kelleher of New York in the first round, 6-4, 6-3, 6-3, for the singles victory this morning, he became one of six men who have won legs on the Casino courts in the past three months. Johnston, who is a native of San Francisco, had won the Davis cup for his country in 1910, and had won the Wimbledon singles title in 1915.

BOOTED CHANCE

The final set saw Spain throw away her only chance, when she led 4-3 with Wood serving, but four successive errors by Alonso and Count de Gomar lost his delivery, aided by two double faults.

A most amusing incident on Patterson's service was the 4-6 match point for Australia. Patterson served a fault to De Gomar, then placed a perfect delivery but was forced to serve a 4-6. The crowd grew restive wondering if the same sensational ending to this match would result as happened in the Wood-Alonso match. Patterson, calmly settled himself and drove over two aces ending the match and giving Australia the lead.

PLAYDOM
HEADS NEW CAST
FORMER MOROSCO LEADING WOMAN RETURNS

By Edwin Schallert

Those who can recall theatrical doings of six seasons ago, will doubtless remember Edith Lyle, who was then leading woman of the Burbank Theater, and who went East, as I remember it, with the play "Mile-a-Minute Kendall," which was originally produced here. Well, it so happens that Miss Lyle is the leading woman selected by Oliver Morosco to head the cast for his play, "A Sporting Thing to Do," by Thompson Buchanan. And she has returned to Los Angeles. The piece is now in rehearsal here, and is scheduled to open the New Morosco Theater in San Francisco next month.

Since her departure from this city Miss Lyle has appeared with some of the leading stars, including Leo Dittichstein in "Americans in France," John Barrymore in "Uncle Sam," Wilton Lackaye in "Country Boy," Frank Craven in "This Way Out," and Louis Brennan in "Johnny Get Your Gun."

The cast of "A Sporting Thing to Do" includes, beside Miss Lyle, Warner Baxter, Adolphe Menjou, Charles Stevenson, Henry Hall, Roscoe Karns, Inna Sherer and Harry Manners. Stage director is Fred J. Butler.

Playwright Happy
Edward Locke, the playwright, is enjoying the distinction of having two premieres of his plays in one week. One piece, "Mike Angelo," was staged at Redlands, and the other, "My Lady's Lips," at the Longacre Theater in New York.

Leo Carrillo is the star of "Mike Angelo." He is appearing at the Raymond Theater in Pasadena tonight.

Mr. Locke is the author of "The Climax," "The Case of Becky," "The Ravell," "The Bubble" and other plays.

Helene at United Studios
Helene Chadwick is to assume the featured role in a production to be filmed by Ray and Kenneth Hawks at the United Studios. This is the first time that Goldwyn has ever lent Helene to another concern. Her most recent role at the Culver City studio was in Rupert Hughes' "Gimmie."

Interested in the Hawks company is Walter Morosco, son of Oliver Morosco.

Shuman's New Story
"A Honeymoon for Three," which has been running in serial form in newspapers has been obtained by Edward Shuman for use as his next independent picture theme. He announces that he has purchased the screen rights under the original title of the story, "The Tavern and the Arrows."

Production will commence, it is stated, as soon as Mr. Shuman returns from New York, where he has been arranging the distribution of "Blind Justice."

Russian Concert
An all-Russian program will be played tonight at the Hollywood Bowl. Alfred Hertz will direct, and the soloist will be Sacha Jacobinoff, violinist, said to possess a remarkable genius. The program will include selections by Borodine, Ladow, Stravinsky, Tchaikovsky, and Moussorgsky, while Mr. Jacobinoff will play the Concerto for violin, by Tchaikovsky, with the orchestra.

Ruth Stonehouse Leaves
Ruth Stonehouse has been signed by the Premium Pictures Corporation to star in three features to be made in Portland. She is leaving Los Angeles today, traveling via train.

Lead for Keaton
Phyllis Haver, one of the best-known comedienne in motion pictures, has been engaged to play opposite Buster Keaton in his forthcoming comedy which he is to produce under the Joseph M. Schenck banner for release through Associated First Nations.

Ann May. Featured in "The Half Breed," showing at the Kinema Theater.

HOLLYWOOD LOSES OUT
Harold Lloyd is no longer "Grandma's Boy," and all because of two teeth. Said teeth belong to the 2-month-old heir of Freddy Newmeyer, who directed "Grandma's Boy," which is playing a fourth week at the Symphony.

Last week the studio bulletin board bore the world astounding news that the Newmeyer heir had two teeth. It so happened that Anna Townsend who has the role of Granny in "Grandma's Boy" was at the studio. Immediately she became interested, called on the young Newmeyer and that led to Lloyd's downfall. The comedian must now occupy second place in the affections of the 78-year-old actress. What chance has a full-grown man against a baby with two new teeth?

LIVE FOOT AT UNIVERSAL
Los Angeles fight fans will have an opportunity today to see whether or not Reginald Denny, screen star, stacks up as a candidate to battle Jack Dempsey. Men who like the boxing game have been invited to Universal City by Irving B. Thalberg, director-general, to witness Denny in action. The gates are to be opened at 8:30 a.m. today. Denny will take on another heavyweight and fight him to a knockout. The battle is a part of "The Leather Pushers," a series of H. C. Witwer's prize-ring stories which are being filmed at Universal City under the direction of Harry Pollard.

TWO LOCAL SOLOISTS
Two popular artists of Los Angeles will add lustre to Grauman's Sunday matinee "discovery" concert tomorrow, for Alfred Kastner, harp soloist, and Lawrence Tibbett, baritone, are featured attractions of the program. Others to appear are: Leola Wells, soprano; Rose Raymond, pianist; a trio, with George Stober and Victor Young, violinists, and Jennette Rogers, flutist; the Carlo Quartet, composed of four juvenile singers, Maxine, Louise, Leonard and Harry Carlo; Josephine Meil and Ruth May Shaffer, in a vocal duet, and Henry Murtagh in five organ solos.

HIGH-POWER HEADLINERS
The local Orpheum is to welcome two popular headliners in the near future. Emma Carus, one of the best-known comedienne in the country, will be one. The enthusiastic songstress will render a set of new songs. Lew Dockstader, the "King of Minstrels," is the other celebrity. The make-up monarch will perform in "Talking Through His Hat."

BILL DUNCAN FILMS
Resumption of full activities at Vitaphone was noted last week with the starting of production by William Duncan on "When Danger Smiles." Edith Johnson will co-star. The picture is a western.

Sacha Jacobinoff
Russian violinist, who will play tonight at the Bowl concert.

UNIVERSAL STAR
WEDS BUSINESS MAN

A belated announcement was made yesterday of the marriage of Louise Burham and Joseph Bray, a young business man of this city. Miss Burham is known for her work in "Tarsman of the Apes" and lately has played the lead in the "Radio King," a serial in which Roy Stewart is the star. She is now appearing opposite Jack Mulhall in a series of eight two-reelers.

Miss Lorraine and Mr. Bray were wed about a month ago by Justice of the Peace Walter Hanby. Only the immediate families were acquainted with the fact that the ceremony had been performed at the time. Miss Lorraine and Mr. Bray met about a year ago.

They plan to take a honeymoon trip as soon as Miss Lorraine's picture contracts will allow.

"HEARTS HAVEN" STAYS
"Hearts Haven," the Clara Louise Burnham story, now having its world premiere at Tally's Broadway Theater, is to play a third week. The attendance has been increasing steadily each day at such a rate as to convince the management that in "Hearts Haven," the producers have one of the successes of the year. Benjamin B. Hampton made the picture for Federal Photoplays, and by special arrangements with L. Tally, pictures are being shown here several months ahead of its release date. Featured are Claire Adams, Carl Gantvoort, Robert M. Lewis and Claire McDowell. In the news weekly shown in connection are a number of scenes showing the marriage of Jack Pickford to Marilyn Miller. Intimate close-ups of the bridal couple are shown.

FOUR IN A ROW
Probably for the first time in this city a theater has presented four consecutive world premieres. The California Theater showed the premiere of Charles Ray's first United Artists production, "A Tailor-Made Man," two weeks ago, and it is still going strong in its third week at Miller's. This was followed by the premiere of the Behlberg production, "Rich Men's Wives," the current attraction, and tomorrow Victor Schertzinger's first independent production, "The Kingdom Within," will be given its premiere. Following this will come the Irving Cummings production, "Flash and Blood," starring Lon Chaney, two months before it is to be shown elsewhere.

COMEDY AT KINEMA
The two-reel comedy entitled "Be Reasonable," from the Senzani fun factory, will show tonight at the Kinema Theater. An unusually large cast was assembled for the making of this comedy, including Billy Breen, Mildred Jane, Eddie Gribbon, Ethel Tera, Bobby Dunn, and the Mack Bennett dog, Teddy. More than 200 policemen and the famous bathing beauties took part in the chase which furnishes some of the best laughs in the picture.

MOTHER HELD AS FORGER

Kiddie Asked for Cry-Baby Doll, so Woman Bought it With Fictitious Check, Is Charge

Her kiddie wanted a cry-baby doll, so Mrs. Virginia Shay bought one with a fictitious check yesterday, detectives assert. She was arrested by Nick Harris detectives who had been searching for her for the last year and a half.

Mrs. Shay, a bobbed-hair blonde, resides with her husband, J. P. Shay, a marine engineer, at the Arden Apartments, San Pedro. W. Cochran and F. R. Clayton, who arrested her, assert that she has passed fictitious checks totaling several thousands of dollars for a period of a year and a half in scores of Los Angeles stores.

"I've got a champagne appetite and a beer pocketbook," she said last night at the City Jail. "All my life I've wanted pretty things, pretty clothes, and craves parties and a good time. I had always felt that I could never get enough good clothes. There is no limit to the money I have desired."

"I wanted pretty things for the kiddie. I wanted her to have pretty clothes and prettier things than other kiddies. She wanted a doll, a cry-baby doll, and built all her childish hopes on one. So I brought her to town today to buy her a doll. But I was arrested and the detectives took the doll away from my baby and now she'll cry her little heart out."

Baby Margaret, 3 years old, wanted to stay in jail with her mother. But the officers took her away, and placed her in the custody of the doll. Mrs. Shay wanted the doll to stay in jail. The price of the doll was $3.50, but his mother attempted to pay a fictitious check for $20 on the clerk who sold it to her.

Mrs. Shay was arrested once before on the same charge, before Baby Margaret was born. But the baby was to arrive within a short time and the mother was released.

KNOCKED UNDER CAR BY MACHINE

Santa Monica Man Not Expected to Survive Serious Injuries

Thrown beneath the wheels of a Pacific Electric car when struck by an automobile, D. W. Wood, 80 years of age, 906 Sixth street, Santa Monica, received injuries yesterday which may result in his death. When taken to the Receiving Hospital for treatment it was found that the wheels had severed one leg above the knee and the other just above the ankle.

Police Surgeon Sebastian said that the man may die of shock. According to witnesses Mr. Wood was walking when struck by the automobile. He was thrown directly under the machine. The driver of the automobile at a late hour last evening had not reported the accident to the police.

Mr. Wood was rushed to the hospital by Conductor Joe Federbush of 124 1/2 Alhambra avenue and Marion Van Deventer of 201 Ross street. Mr. Wood, barely conscious, said that his car had been at a camp in the Santa Monica Mountains. He said he is an employee of Bullock's Department Store.

Mrs. James McCall of Lake City, Minn., mother of Mrs. Franklin K. Lane, Jr., of this city, was killed in an automobile accident in Germany Tuesday, according to a telegram reaching here yesterday. No details from the mishap were given aside from the fact that the other members of Mrs. McCall's party were safe.

Hubby Drunk on Saturday Nights, Asserts Woman

Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde was the poorest kind of a stouffer as compared to Homer Lee Gardner, if the complaint for separate maintenance filed by his wife, Mrs. May Watson D. Gardner in Superior Court yesterday is to be considered.

Gardner in her petition asserts that her husband made a continuous habit of becoming intoxicated and that for five weeks preceding the 12th, he was intoxicated every Saturday night. Mrs. Gardner also says that he brought disreputable companions into their home and engaged in drunken orgies.

"There isn't a waitress in town who couldn't give you candy, and speedies and beat you at anything," her husband is said to have told her. He also frequently referred to her as a "stuck-up southerner," the complaint says, and spoke of his first wife as a "good sport."

ROTARIANS VISIT PILGRIMAGE PLAY

Rotarians, 200 or more, attended the Pilgrimage Play last night, the party occupying a group of seats especially reserved for them in the big amphitheater.

Next week's special groups at the play will represent many of the local industries, as well as featuring a number of civic excursions from nearby communities.

Among the former will be the Southern California Telephone Company employees; Southern California Gas employees; Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation employees and Owl Drug Company employees.

One hundred and fifty members of the 100 Per Cent Club are planning a special excursion to the play for Wednesday night.

BIG POWER CONTRACT CLOSED (LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE) RIVERSIDE, Aug. 18.—The Southern Electric Company has completed arrangements to take 10,000,000 K.W.H. of electric energy from the San Geronimo Power Company, says an announcement in the Coachella and Imperial valleys. The last named corporation will construct a hydro-electric plant on the headwaters of the Whitewater River, from which point it will be connected with the high tension mains leading into these valleys.

CUSTODY OF CHILD LOST TO MOTHER

Sister of Baby's Parent Wins in Suit Filled With Baffling Statements

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) DULUTH (Minn.) Aug. 18.—

After unfolding a story of a mother's hatred for her daughter and of her own struggles, sacrifices and privations for another's sake, Mrs. Rudolph Shostack, sister of the child's mother, 2015 Devonshire street, formerly of Los Angeles, was awarded the custody of little June Hasket, 4 years old, following a hearing in District Court today before Judge Cant.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton R. Pollan of Los Angeles, obtained a writ of habeas corpus in an attempt to obtain custody of the child, which was born to Mrs. Pollan before her marriage. A new hearing in the case would be granted if the plaintiffs made application, Judge Cant intimated.

CHILD HAS OPINIONS Apparently unconcerned over the proceedings except when her name was mentioned, little June appeared in court dressed in a light orange dress carrying her doll. Mrs. Pollan was asked by his attorney to take her to Los Angeles and provide a home for her. An emphatic "no" was registered by June before Pollan had a chance to answer.

The estate to which June was named as heir is practically wiped out, according to testimony introduced. Mr. Pollan declared that he would waive any claim to the estate if given custody of the child. Little June was made an heir to the estate of D. A. Shanholtzer, Kansas City oil operator and father of Mrs. Shostack's first husband.

The elder Shanholtzer believed the little girl to be his granddaughter. After the death of the elder Shanholtzer, Mrs. Shostack received $20 a month as June's allowance by the terms of the estate. Mrs. Shostack testified that Earl Shanholtzer, her first husband was the father of her sister's child. This is denied in an affidavit of Mrs. Pollan, who stated that the child's father was a soldier whom she met in Springfield, Mo., and who was in France when the child was born.

PERMIT TO LOAD ROCK TEMPORARY

Councilman Allan Says No Industrial Zone is Created at Vineyard

Stating that he regretted misstatements had been made in connection with the City Council's recent action in granting a permit to the Union Rock Company to establish a temporary rock loading depot near the Vineyard station of the Pacific Electric Railway Company's line, Councilman Allan, chairman of the council's public Welfare Committee, yesterday called attention to a circular which had been distributed by those who opposed issuance of the permit, which declared that a rock crushing plant was to be located under the permit, and that this would result in the establishing of new lumber yards, briquette factories and other industries in this district.

"The only thing the Council did was to create a small industrial zone on the lot of the low lying land belonging to the Pacific Electric Railroad, west of Vineyard station, and to permit some of the circulators of the petition that all the property between Wilshire and Western Avenue and the city limits be used for industrial is so far from the facts that people are being deliberately deceived. The only purpose in granting this permit is to permit for a short time, the hauling of crushed rock and sand to this station in car-load lots and the distribution of same in trucks, thus saving the city streets from the long haul necessary at the present time from yards on the side and to enable the builders and others contemplating improvements to obtain this material at a convenient location."

THEY'RE STAYING HOME The interruption in railway traffic has had the effect of reducing quite appreciably the demand for passports at the office of the Clerk of the Court, 100 South Broadway, to the strike the passports averaged about thirty a day.

HOLMES NIPS MURDER PLOT

"Disappearance of Lady Frances Carfax" Solved in "Times Magazine"

In "The Disappearance of Lady Frances Carfax" Sir Arthur Conan Doyle has given the master detective Sherlock Holmes one of the hardest tasks of that remarkable character's fiction.

The story, complete, will appear in The Times Magazine next Sunday. Lady Frances possessed some very valuable jewels. A man and woman, notorious crooks, posing as missionaries, wormed their way into her acquaintance at a Baden hotel. Then she disappeared. How Sherlock Holmes picked up the scent and followed the track of the crooks, and how he arrived in the very nick of time to save the life of the Englishwoman makes some of the most exciting reading that has ever come from Doyle's gifted pen. Be sure to read The Disappearance of Lady Frances Carfax in The Times Magazine next Sunday.

Effective Law to Curb Road Hogs Planned

More than four times as many Angelenos ride on street cars as in automobiles, the Los Angeles Traffic Commission was informed yesterday. George Baker Anderson, manager of operations for the Los Angeles Railway, stated that the electric cars carried 450,000 persons daily, while his estimates of the persons carried daily in motor vehicles was only 100,000.

This was used as an argument for legislation to threaten the "road hog." A road hog was described as a motorist who dashes out from the line of automobiles and along the street car tracks and then forces his way into the vehicle line again.

This has resulted in great delay of the street cars, and some members of the commission declared that the average motorist hates the road hog as much as the motor-mane does.

The transportation committee has been at work on the question for some time, and yesterday was instructed to prepare a report recommending effective legislation.

STRIKERS HALT RESCUE

Needles Rail Workers Prevent Men from Aiding Sufferers Marooned in Desert

Driven out of Needles four days ago by a mob of strikers who refused them permission to bring out some of the women and children who were marooned in that town on account of the railroad strike, three Hollywood men—Don Chesholm, Paul Grosso and Dave Evans, 1680 North Western avenue—arrived home yesterday morning after a grueling trip through the desert. On their journey they were railroaded for almost three days in a little town far removed from a railroad.

The three young men, according to stories told a Times representative today, made the trip to Needles in two big touring cars for the purpose of bringing to Los Angeles such women and children as were suffering severely from the extreme heat.

Putting up at a hotel there, they started out to buy tires for one of their machines, having chewed up practically every tire on the car during the trip. Finding no place at which they could buy the tires, they returned to the hotel, where they were met by a deputation from the striking railroad men, armed with revolvers and shotguns, who commanded them to head the strike back toward Los Angeles. The local men declared that after explaining to the mob that they could not move without tires, they were given a few hours of grace.

They finally secured the necessary tires and then, secretly making arrangements to have two women and two children, who were prostrated by the heat, taken to the outskirts of the town to meet them, were escorted from the hotel by the strikers and told not to come back, as they were either newspaper representatives or sent by the railroad heads to get dope on the strikers.

The women and children were picked up according to the plan, and the outskirts of Needles and the run back started. Although they were forced to lay over in a small village for almost three days, Mr. Evans stated that the run was nothing compared with having to lay in Needles, which at that time was in the throes of a heat wave which was telling severely on the hundreds of passengers who were compelled to remain there following the strike of the railroad men.

SUES FOR DAMAGE IN OIL BLAZE

Lease Holder Adjoining Shell Company Charges Negligence

A suit for $107,500 damages filed yesterday by Dr. Wendell White against the Shell Oil Company of California, resulting from the recent oil-well fire in the Signal Hill district, will involve legal points without precedents in this State.

The damages are for destruction of Dr. White's property on an adjoining lease and damages for loss of oil by reason of the delay caused by the destruction of his derrick and equipment.

Dr. White asserts that the Shell company was negligent in its drilling methods and the handling of its well, and that the company failed to take the proper precautions to prevent a blow out, which did occur, resulting in the fire. Expert testimony will be heard to estimate the probable loss of oil due to the delay in drilling as the result of the fire. The question of negligence also will be made an issue.

CITY CLUB TO HEAR GEN. MACCHESNEY

A.E.F. JUDGE-ADVOCATE TO SPEAK ON UNIFORM LEGISLATION

Brig.-Gen. Nathan William MacChesney, who will be in Los Angeles for a visit next week, is to speak at the City Club Monday night on the subject of "Uniform State Legislation—An Aid to Efficient Government."

Gen. MacChesney is chairman of the American Association of Judges, and a member of the State Bar. During the World War he was judge-advocate of the A.E.F., and in 1920 he was named as the campaign for the Presidential nomination. He is general counsel of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, and a member of the Chicago Plan Commission, and author, among other things, of "Abraham Lincoln, the Tribute of a Century."

DROWNS IN TROUGH

Japanese Boy Loses His Balance in Shallow Ranch Ditch

While wading in a water trough on the Plantation ranch near Norwalk yesterday afternoon, Kiyoichi Karayama, 3-year-old Japanese boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Yama of Norwalk, slipped and drowned.

According to report to the Japanese Undertaking Company in Los Angeles, where the body is being held, the child was playing with other children when the drowning occurred. The water was about two feet deep where the child fell in.

LOOKING FOR BODY

Life Guards and Others in Search for Victim

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent (EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) LONG BEACH, Aug. 18.—Police, life guards and citizens were scanning the surf along the entire Long Beach water front today in search of a body reported to have been seen in the breakers near the bathhouse yesterday. A "bather" whose name was not learned notified life guards that he had stepped on the body while in bathing. When he returned to the surf with four life guards the body was found. It was established by the action of the tide rip, it was said.

BOY KILLED BY FALL

Slipped From Tree and Fractured Skull

A 13-foot fall from a tree in front of his home ended in death last night for 14-year-old Joe Navarro, 2440 East Eighth street. The boy was said to have been playing in the tree when his foot slipped. At the Receiving Hospital, it was found that his skull was fractured and he died in less than an hour after his fall. The body was taken to the J. B. Burton Undertaking parlors.

MAKES TRACTION OFFER

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent (EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) PASADENA, Aug. 18.—A supplementary offer from the Pacific Electric Railroad for the settlement of the local traction mix-up was received by the City Directors from D. W. Pontius, general manager of the road, today, but was not made public and city officials declined to discuss it. The directors have been considering traction for some time, and have, it is said, forwarded several suggestions to Mr. Pontius. The letter is presumed to be in answer to those suggestions.

POLICE GET BURGLAR IN HOLLYWOOD

Captured After Chase in Alleys; Partner in Crime Escapes Pursuers

Surprised by two Hollywood officers while he was looting the cleaning establishment of L. Fogel at 545 1/2 Hollywood Boulevard early this morning, John Perales, age 25, was arrested after being cornered in the rear of a private residence on McCadden street.

A second man, who was also on the job, succeeded in escaping the officers. He came back three hours later to remove the furniture and clothing which had been piled up in the middle of the floor. He in turn was surprised by a citizen living nearby and made the target for half-a-dozen shots from a second-story window. The shots went wild, the burglar escaping down the alley. However, he was forced to drop the loot which he had made ready for a quick getaway.

Entrance to the establishment was gained through a rear door after the glass had been broken and the burglar escaped. Efforts to question the one man captured proved fruitless, according to local detectives, for it is said that he told no more than the traditional stories it was impossible to make head or tail out of his narrative.

City Election to be Merged With Primary

The City Council yesterday passed the necessary ordinance formally calling a special municipal election to be merged with the State-county primaries on the 29th inst., at which time the $12,000,000 sewer bond issue and a charter amendment increasing the tax levy for governmental purposes from $1 per $100 of property valuation to $1.25. Both propositions have received the support of the Chamber of Commerce and other civic organizations.

The need of adequate sewer facilities is generally admitted. The increase in the tax levy for the purpose of conducting the city government is also generally admitted. It will be followed by the immediate repeal of the admittedly unjust occupational tax, which was established as an emergency measure by the city in order to meet the need of more funds.

Councilman Sparks said that the increase in the tax levy should receive the support of the voters, as with the growth of the city, the $12,000,000 sewer bond issue, produced far more revenue to enable the city government to function.

Red Line Gets Permission to Build Tunnel

The Pacific Electric Railway was yesterday given formal permission to build under Bunker Hill, from its Hill-street station to Glendale Boulevard in order to furnish rapid transportation to Hollywood and other northwestern parts of the city and suburbs. The project will represent an expenditure of $1,000,000 by the Pacific Electric Railway and will have the effect of removing all of the red cars off of Hill street north of the Hill-street station of the railway.

The Council yesterday formally approved the bid of the Pacific Electric for the franchise to build and operate a tunnel under Bunker Hill and instructed the City Attorney to prepare the necessary ordinance and signature by the Mayor.
